ANOTHER RICH STRIKE AT PROPERTY OF HARRIS BOYS

Three Hundred Dollar Ore Encountered in Drift North Off 180-Foot Level of Number Three Vein

Word was brought down from the American Boy mine Tuesday of the widening out of the vein in the north drift off the 180 ft. level of the No. 3 vein. The change in the vein was characterized both by marked increase in values and size of the ore body. The last round shows the vein to be two and a half feet in width, fourteen inches of which is solid galena on the hanging wall and the balance a particularly good looking grade of cube galena with a mixture of gangue. The solid metal is full of grey copper and Duke Harris estimates the value at something around $800 per ton.

The ore is breaking down now in large blocks and several pieces of solid ore were observed that would easily weigh over a hundred pounds each. At this rate the mine will make tonnage rapidly and the exceeding high values should make this property a great money marker.

Supt. Al. Harris stated that they will continue drifting north on this vein, sacking the high grade as rapidly as possible and hurry another car to the smelter, in addition to the one now near capacity. The first car shipped netted $73 per ton at Trail smelter and the next car should net nearly double that, reduction in transportation and increased value of ore considered.

PARTY OF LAND SEEKERS LEAVES FOR THE BABINES

Spokane Men Start Tide of Immigration Flowing Towards Northern British Columbia

The B. C. Land & Colonization Co., Spokane, owners of over a hundred thousand acres of land in the Babine district, and mostly along the lake shore, sent in the first colonization party this week. They arrived here on Wednesday night and after getting their supplies and outfits in shape they started out the Babine trail Thursday afternoon for the new land. There are twelve in the party and of this number several will remain on the land and get busy this spring clearing. Other parties will also be brought in shortly. Lauchlin McLean, head of the company, states that this first party is more of an advance guard. They have had reports on the district which were very favorable, but they are now going in to see for themselves. He said that if the country was as good as he believed it to be, his company would send in many of the best farmers in the western States. These men that are with him all have plenty of money and they are looking for a new country to get into.

J. B. Sargent, the senior member of the party, is one of the most enthusiastic. He is an old farmer himself and has seen new countries grow. He has faith in the northern part of British Columbia. He has four sons all in business and they are also looking for a new country to get into.

The party consisted of the following gentlemen: Lauchlin McLean, Robt. A. Hopkins, J. B. Sargent, Geo. A. Griffith, Benj. F. Bresnahan, John Becker, F. Littler, John Roberts, Geo. Poepping, J. B. Cole, John Harris and Jesse Coulter. The last three named will remain in New Hazelton for some time.

HIGHLAND BOY GROUP WILL SOON BE HIVE OF INDUSTRY

Manager P. J. Jennings Arrived on Wednesday Night--Goes to the Mine Sunday--Will Tunnel on Veins

The Butte and Rocher de Boule Mining Co. are now prepared to begin operations on the Highland Boy group which they purchased last winter upon the report and recommendation of P. J. Jennings who was here all last year. Mr. Jennings is in town again and he will have charge of the work this year. He stated to the Herald that his company had $20,000 available for development purposes and that they were going to get busy immediately. He is leaving for the mine Sunday and upon arrival will first erect a camp on the Highland Boy claim close to the tunnel site. A trail about a mile long has to be built to connect the Highland Boy with the Rocher de Boule, but as there is considerable snow on top of the mountain yet a snow trail will be made first to enable them to get supplies in and to get the work under way. On the property is a small basin through which the veins run, thus giving an ideal tunnel site. The company will drive several hundred feet into the vein. They will get a depth of 500 or 600 feet and the development will be in ore all the time. As soon as the necessary preliminary work is done, Mr. Jennings states that his company will install the most modern machinery and develop the mine on a large scale. He expects that by this fall there will be some big doings on Rocher de Boule mountain.

GRADING STREETS WORK UNDER WAY

A. L. McHugh is doing the Work—A Number of Teams on this Week—More Sidewalks

The contract for the street grading in Sec. 2 was given to A. L. McHugh and he started on Monday morning with the work. An engineer gave him the levels as soon as the stumps were blown. Mr. McHugh put several teams with ploughs and scrapers on the job. It will not be long now until it is possible to drive to the depot. The sidewalk work will also start in a few days. Owing to a number of changes in the original plans new tenders were asked. The work will now run along Laurier from the depot to Ninth Ave. thence along Ninth to McLeod, up McLeod to Tenth, along Tenth to Fielding and then down to Eleventh and along to Pugsley. This will give a continuous walk from the corner of Pugsley and Thirteenth to the depot.

PLANTING APPLE TREES

North Coast Land Co. Demonstrating Uses of Skeena River Land

The North Coast Land Co., of Vancouver, has this season set out a number of apple trees on a couple of pieces of land they own in the Kitwangah district. The land was cleared over a year ago and the experiment is being made with the apple trees. If successful more land will be cleared and more apple trees of different varieties, as well as other kinds of fruits, will be tried. The North Coast Land Co. own large tracts of land in this district, and they are now doing development work which will prove to the world what these lands are particularly good for. The company is working out an extensive policy for the development of the northern interior of British Columbia and from time to time reports of their work will appear in the Herald.

BREED FOXES ON VANCOUVER ISLE

Company Organizing to Participate in Venture Proven Successful on Prince Edward Island

For some time fox breeding has been an exceptionally profitable business on Prince Edward Island and more recently in other maritime provinces. Millionaires have been created and the little island province people are wild with enthusiasm over the business. Some of this enthusiasm has travelled to British Columbia and a company is being organized in Vancouver to establish a fox farm on Vancouver Island. It is well known that foxes exist in almost all parts of this province, and there is no reason why the farm should not prove just as successful here as in the east.

Erie Ore Went $117 Net

Word has been received from Mr. Kinman that the smelter returns from the first car of ore sent from the Erie mine to Tacoma netted $117 per ton.

Miss Crawford, of the hospital nursing staff, is a guest this week of Mrs. Sawle.

PETITION FOR A LIQUOR LICENSE

C. G. Harvey Making Application for His New Hotel—Petition Largely Signed

C. G. Harvey was in town on Tuesday last circulating a petition for a liquor license for the handsome new hotel he is having erected at the corner of 9th Ave. and Templeman St. Every one signed it as there is nothing the town needs as much as a good hotel. Mr. Harvey is one of the real old timers in the district. For several years he has been a resident in the old town where he always took a prominent part in everything that was for the welfare of the town. He conducted the Hazelton Hotel until a few months ago, when he decided to move to New Hazelton. He is now having erected at the corner of Ninth Ave. and Templeman St. one of the finest hotel buildings in northern B. C. He has also placed an order for new furniture throughout. Mr. Harvey states that he will conduct only a high class hotel, and in this he will have the support of his many friends and of the public generally.

DUNCAN ROSS ON NAVY QUESTION

Good Meeting Heard a Splendid Speech on Matter of Canada's Share
in Empire Defence

There was a good attendance at the public meeting held in the church hall on Wednesday night, under the auspices of the Liberal Association of New Hazelton. W. J. McKenzie was in the chair and occupied the floor during the early part of the meeting in an interesting talk on the issues of the day under discussion in federal and provincial arenas.

Duncan Ross was then called upon, being heartily received by his many friends. In a clear, convincing speech he carried his audience over the course of the naval policy from its promulgation in 1909, its adoption by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the unanimous endorsement of his policy by both conservatives and liberals. The Tories soon changed their mind and it was the appeals to the innocent Quebec habitant that won them power in 1911. They carried reciprocity to victory on the back of the naval question and by waving the flag in Orange Ontario and shooting it full of holes in French Quebec. The speaker pointed out the different onslaughts that had been made by Imperial authorities to get a contribution from Canada. Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Wilfrid Laurier refused most emphatically as it was too grave a departure from the principles of self-government. The Imperial authorities were despairing of ever finding a Canadian so weak as to accede to their request. When Mr. Borden took the reins he fell for contribution. As to the closure, Mr. Ross said that Sir Wilfrid thought reciprocity good enough to trust the people with it, and submitted it to them when the opposition fought the measure, and it demonstrated the weakness of the Premier and his naval proposals when he refused to put it to the people, and carried it by the gag of closure.

F. L. Charleson, the pioneer merchant at Telkwa, was in town a few days last week, and reports things in the valley as very good. Since the freighting department of the contractors has been tied up business has not been as brisk but the roads are improving and teaming will start again shortly.

CANNOT BURN SLASH IN B.C.

Settlers Are Asked to Note That They Cannot Start Fires Without a Special Permit

Victoria, B. C., May 22—The settlers throughout British Columbia may with advantage be once more reminded that, according to the regulations of the Forest Board, it is now illegal to burn slash and general debris accumulating as a result of clearing operations unless a permit for such burning is secured, this order continuing through the dry season—until first October.

It is noteworthy that British Columbia is the only Canadian province which thus controls and regulates slash burning throughout the summers, and in consequence of this precaution the percentage of loss through settlers' land clearing is lower than elsewhere in the Dominion.

a location on the main business street.

When the improvements now under contract are finished, in addition to being within a block or two of the depot on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, with streets graded and sidewalks in front of your property, you will be within 4 miles of the Silver Standard and Surprise mines.

Within 5 1-2 miles of the Harris mines.

" 3 " of the Erie, or any of the Four Mile mines.
" 11 " of any of the many properties on Nine Mile mountain.

" 4 " of the great Rocher de Boule basin, which bids fair to become one of the big camps of B.C. Closely connected with New Hazelton via Mission creek.

" 4 " of the bridge across the Skeena—the outlet of the Kispiox valley, with an area of agricultural lands equalling anything in the province, the Ground Hog coal fields and all the other wonderful resources to the north.

The roads from all the above districts and properties—except Rocher de Boule, which lies right behind the town—converge at the new Hagueltgate bridge over the Bulkley river, now under construction, and from any of the above points to New Hazelton the road is almost perfect, the grade nowhere exceeding 4 1-2 per cent.

Reserved by the provincial government for the use of the people, three-quarters of a mile from the centre of town is Mission creek, a beautiful mountain stream, which will easily furnish water and light for a population of five thousand people.

If you believe in the future of this great Omineca District, you owe it to yourself to lose no time in becoming the owner of some of the inside property at New Hazelton now offered by us.

POULTRY DEPARTMENT

This period of the world's progress stands out unique as an age of commercial and economical progress. Never before in the work of the world has so great attention been paid to utilizing all the waste products, or rather using every atom of material so there is no waste. The marshy tracts and arid deserts are transformed into happy homes and prosperous farms. Manufacturers are becoming millionaires by converting into valuable commercial articles what had hitherto been considered worthless.

As the poultry business has only recently been lifted from the ignominy of keeping hens, and taken its proper place as a qualified business, we are a few paces behind in economics.

There is much printed, read and talked about poultry as a fad and as a means of getting acquainted with outdoor life, and of giving one some live interest outside of shop, but no practical man or woman can remain interested very long in a fad that shows no profit. Somehow the clink of the silver is needed to keep enthusiasm up to its level. So the man who is looking to poultry for his living, and the one who is interested merely as a fad, are both asking, "Will it pay?"

The answer is simple. Make the income exceed the expense and any business will pay. Here are a couple of suggestions along that line: Have ready money to buy grain at the right time; still better, grow your own grain if you have available land. Home grown grain is at home where it is needed and is never musty or adulterated.

Sticking to the Poultry Business

There are many people who have an idea that they could make good in the poultry business if they only had a chance. You have the chance if you only have a few feet of ground. It is not necessary that you should have ten or twenty acres in order to raise chickens. First begin in a small way and grow with the business. To make a success on a large poultry plant one must first have some experience. It cannot all be learned, but some experience should be a stock in trade when you begin on a large scale. You will learn to take failures as easily as possible, and go at it again. The poultry business affords every opportunity to try a man's patience and stick-to-itiveness. If you find that you are easily discouraged then don't ever try the business out on a large scale, for no matter how well posted you are, you will have distressing experiences. The best of poultrymen will tell of happenings that would make the more easily discouraged quake. Get one small house and five or six hens, then plan your work and see what you can do with it. Take up a larger work as you succeed.

When you have entered the work make up your mind to overcome every unfortunate circumstance. Take the failures and use them as stepping stones to success. Never make the same mistake a second time. This is not good common sense, and if you cannot learn by experience without having it repeated you're doomed to failure. The proper thing is to determine to succeed, and grow only as fast as you do successful work. If you find a plant of twenty-five hens giving you considerable difficulty, keeping things straight then keep at this size for a couple of years until you are in a position to take a larger one. Don't give up, but stick to the ship no matter what happens. The man who starts in with the poultry business will succeed if he has the inclination and determination to go ahead.

There are many things about the poultry business that the beginner does not think of. He does not realize that there is a whole lot to learn before he can be called an expert. There is a lot of sickness, questions of feeding for best results, and the care and feeding of chicks, besides a hundred other propositions that come up from day to day. As you actually get into the work the force of these things will come to you and you will appreciate what has been written. Stick to the work and don't admit yourself beaten. There are conditions to be met that require years of experience. Keep at the good work and have the satisfaction of winning in the end.

The Perfect Bird

The perfect bird of any breed or variety is hard to find. Now and then we will come across some very fine specimens, but when we go over the birds from toe to beak we are quite sure to find something that is not just as it should be. Occasionally in a show room you will find birds that measure up well, but when you consider that they have been picked from hundreds of birds in flock, it is not surprising after all. Now here is where the breeder is misunderstood by the novice. The latter buys a three or five dollar bird and when he finds that it is not just what the Standard calls for he gets sore. The comb is not perfect, or the wattles are not just what they should be, or the bird does not look to you just exactly like the picture the Standard gives for that breed. The novice immediately sits down and writes that breeder just what he thinks of him for sending such a bird. If Mr. Beginner will kindly remember that three or five dollars can not purchase a perfect bird, or one even that will score 95 points by a careful judge. Don't expect too much for your money. Give the breeder credit for giving you your money's worth. A perfect bird is hard to find and still harder to buy.

Careful Records

It is not always that one wishes to refer to something that has taken place on the poultry plant a year or more ago, but when that time does come it is with great satisfaction that one can turn to a book and find out the facts without guessing. Poultry men often want to know when certain chicks were hatched. If he has a careful record of these hatches, he can turn to his book and secure at once all the information that is desired. The same thing is true with egg records; it is not often that one desires to consult them, but when you want to know how many eggs the hens laid during the last month or last year it is very easy when all you have to do is to turn to the book and get the figures. It pays to keep careful records of all work on the poultry plant.

It is certainly better to feed wheat at the present high price than to leave it out of the rations and substitute something else. Wheat is an all around food containing elements much needed for the best work of the hen. When fed liberally on it the hen will do better than on any other grain. So even if you find that it is high in price, do not hesitate to purchase, for it will pay you in the end.

TOWNSITE NEWS NOTES

The Presbyterian church has arranged to change their lots from Eleventh Ave. to Twelfth Ave. The new location is only a few lots east of the present site of the church.

The first stumps for the street grading were blown out on Tuesday afternoon at the corner of Ninth Ave. and McLeod street. Since then the streets have been pretty well cleared up, and Mr. McHugh has several teams working with plows and scrapers.

Rev. Father Godfrey, for the Roman Catholic church, has selected lots one and two in block 79 and states that he will commence the erection of a church upon the property within the next few weeks.

H. S. Clements, M. P., has secured an appropriation for a post office building in New Hazelton of $7,000. The site selected for this building is at the corner of Kelly street and Ninth Ave. The plans for the building and construction will not likely be announced until Mr. Clements returns from Ottawa.

The Union Bank of Canada and the Bank of Vancouver have both secured double corners on Ninth Ave. in blocks 91 and 92 and the Hudson's Bay Co. have selected four lots in block 99 on McLeod street. These firms have all decided to erect permanent buildings this summer and now that the improvement program is announced they will begin construction at a very early date.

JACK WILLIAMS' NEW RESTAURANT

Opened Last Sunday—Local New Laid Eggs Will Be Served—Has Everything New

Owing to delay in getting his new fixtures up from the south, Jack Williams' restaurant was not opened until last Sunday morning. The building has been thoroughly overhauled and remodelled and it is one of the most inviting eating places in the north. The fixtures are all new and modern, as are the dishes and cooking utensils. Jack is a very capable restaurateur, and he did an immense business in the old place, and will no doubt have a still greater patronage in the future. The alterations are in keeping with the growth of the town, and the meals he is now serving are unsurpassed north of Vancouver.

One of the features of Williams' meals is that he has arranged for New Hazelton and Meamskinisht eggs to be served, which guarantees fresh eggs being served to every customer. The eggs from town will be received every day and those from Meamskinisht will come in on each train, thus no egg will be over three days old. Those who like fresh eggs with ham or bacon will appreciate Jack's enterprise, and the ranchers and local poultry people will also appreciate it.

By a recent order in council at Ottawa it is now necessary for all employment agencies to secure a license before doing business. This applies particularly to those agencies doing business with immigrants.

Golin Munro returned from his ranch near Telkwa last week and will spend some time in this district.

Ruddy & McKay is the name of the new firm which was last week announced as successors to

A. M. Ruddy, transfer. The new firm will branch out and do general freighting as well as transfer and local cartage. Mr. Ruddy is now below purchasing more horses for the freighting outfit. James McKay is in charge of the business.

Fort Fraser, B.C., is positively the finest townsite on the entire line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway between Edmonton and Prince Rupert, and we state it will be the largest city between these two points, because it is the centre of a large and fertile agricultural district, has two lines of railway assured, and one thousand miles of inland navigable waters, and the most beautiful climate in Canada. An investment in Fort Fraser NOW will assure you magnificent returns. Watch Fort Fraser's growth.

opened this week for the season.

Angus Stewart made a flying visit to town over the week end.

A carload of lumber was received by W. J. McKenzie from the Terrace mills on Monday.

The first picnics of the season took place on Sunday afternoon when several small parties took lunch along the banks of the Bulkley.

W. Thompson left on Sunday's train for Lakelse Lake where he will spend a few days at the hot springs for the benefit of his rheumatism.

Mrs. Leslie Martin arrived in town Saturday night and spent a few days the guest of Mrs. Kerr before continuing to her home at Decker Lake.

Norman McLeod was in town over the week end when his new driving team arrived. They are one of the classy outfits of the north and Mr. McLeod is cutting quite a dash around the construction camps. He also has a new buggy and harness.

Rev. D. R. McLean, accompanied by his wife and daughter, left Thursday morning for Toronto where he will attend a gen-ian church. H. H. Little, of the old town will represent the congregations of the two towns.

Bob Heddle was in town last week with a number of horses for his livery stable to be started most likely at Fort Fraser. He also had a number of rigs, harness, saddles, etc., necessary for a good livery. He brought up a fancy driving horse for a couple of the boys at Telkwa.

Brush was Burned

Before the new sidewalks were laid on Pugsley street a fire was started on the east side to burn up all the brush and accumulation between the bank and Cohen & Zackon's store. There are several lots there where the brush piles were big and numerous and a great danger from fire.
